DRIVING EQUITABLE HEALTH IMPACT

This essential graphic shows at a glance how the American Heart Association is driving health impact as an organization. What's changed? "Healthy living" is now "total health and well-being," "advancing health and well-being" is now "connecting mind, heart and body" and "building mental well-being" is now "building health and well-being."

The American Heart Association is committed to driving equitable health impact in the Greater Washington Region through key priority areas: reducing risk in women, addressing community need, ending e-cigarette & tobacco use, controlling blood pressure and improving nutrition security and building health & well-being. Equity is always at the center of our work, and it will continue to guide all that we do.

Through our focus on these key impact areas, we can improve the health and well-being of the Greater Washington Region, while saving and improving countless lives.

HEART'S DELIGHT

EMBRACING COMMUNITY CARE SPONSORSHIP

High blood pressure continues to be a serious concern and is one of the American Heart Association's priority issues in driving equitable health impact in the community. Over 100 million Americans - nearly ½ of all adults - are living with high blood pressure. This puts them at high risk for heart attack and stroke. Many of these individuals come to clinics regularly for check-ups and monitoring, but under current conditions many people's blood pressure and other health metrics are going unchecked.

Through the Embracing Community Care Sponsorship, there is opportunity to help solve this immediate need for patients and health care providers. This sponsorship will ensure that one community center or clinic within the Greater Washington Region has the resources available to support patients in monitoring and improving their health. This includes a purchase of an A&D Blood Pressure Kiosk.

Company name recognized on patient materials provided to funded health center

Everyone has a reason to live a longer, healthier life.
What is your Why?

Life is Why is a celebration of life. A simple yet powerful answer to the question of why we should all be healthy in heart and in mind. It also explains why we do what we do: Lifesaving work. Every day. We want people to experience more of life's precious moments. It's why we've made better heart and brain health our mission. And until there's a world free of heart disease and stroke, we'll be here, working to make a healthier, longer life possible for everyone.
